MUST CALL ON MISS CANNON.

An Unmarried Woman's High Rank in Washington Official Society.

Washington Post. With his honors as Speaker of the House, Representatives Cannon has abandoned his hotel quarters and taken a handsome house on Vermont Avenue, where he is now established for the season. Miss Helen Cannon, who will be the head of her father's household, is eminently fitted for the role of leading lady in Congressional circles, a place that will be hers by right and precedent. Miss Cannon, although unmarried, will have the same rank enjoyed in past years by Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Henderson.

The wife of the Speaker of the House is exempt from all first calls, except upon the husband or father of the wife. She takes precedence of all Congressional hostesses, and may, if she chooses, decline to return all visits except in the Supreme Court, diplomatic circles, Miss Cannon, being young, healthy, amiable and of society in its best sense, may not avail herself of the advantages of her new position, but being an experienced woman of the world will be most competent to have her own preferences in making acquaintances, most persons, even in official life, wait until their presence is known to be desired before presenting themselves at an embassy or legation, and at no time are the receptions of the diplomatic hostess to be considered as public functions.

As the ambassadors and ministers occupy the position of guests rather than residents of the capital, and are naturally supposed to have their own preferences in making acquaintances, most persons, even in official life, wait until their presence is known to be desired before presenting themselves at an embassy or legation, and at no time are the receptions of the diplomatic hostess to be considered as public functions.

The old-time cabinet reception, to which all the respectable club were welcome, having passed away, there are no real public receptions left in Washington, and the visitor to the capital who wishes to include a round of calls in his or her sightseeing will have to be accompanied by some member of society properly recorded in the Congressional Directory or social register.

The order of calling on the wife of the President is variously interpreted, a safe idea, according to the most conservative authorities, being to leave a card at the White House before making visits elsewhere. In every case the visitor should have the card of her husband or father with her own, the State from which the congressman comes being on his card.

Women and Society.

BY MRS. J. M. DE COTTER.

MOTHERS' UNION MET

WITH MRS. RUSHTON.

The members of the Mothers' Union were delightedly entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. E. B. Rushton at her home on South Court Street.

This meeting was one of the most interesting ever held since the organization of this club. The features of the occasion were a lecture by the Hon. I. W. Hill, Superintendent of Education, on the subject "Schools."

In his lecture, which was interesting in the extreme, Mr. Hill went over the whole ground of schools, and the history of the school system from the time of the Civil War up to the present. One especially interesting act, upon which he laid stress, was that for ten years after the war there was nothing done along the lines of education, so the growth of school laws, as they are at present, has been accomplished in a comparatively few years.

Mr. Hill urged the members of the Mothers' Union to bring all their influence to bear, that they possibly could, for the obtaining of better school houses for the rural districts.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hill's address, Mrs. Kate Hutchison Morrisette offered a resolution that the Mothers' Union, pledge itself to this purpose, and to make every effort to obtain better school houses in the rural districts. The resolution was carried.

Reports of the standing committees were very gratifying and satisfactory. Mrs. W. E. Ledyard, who attended the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs recently held at Tuscaloosa, as director of the Mothers' Union, made an interesting report from the Federation. She especially gratifying to the members of the club to learn the Mothers' Union is recognized as the Banner Club of the Federation, as reported by the Federation. Mrs. Ledyard said this Club having raised more money for this fund than any other one in the Federation.

Mrs. H. C. Gunnels, who attended the Federation as delegate of the Mothers' Union, read a full and delightful report in most charming manner. Mrs. Gunnels dwelt especially on the social side of the Federation. She told of the many delightful functions, and spoke enthusiastically of the hospitality of the Tuscaloosa people.

MEETING OF Y. W. C. A. BOARD.

The Board of the Young Women's Christian Association met yesterday morning with Mrs. J. Walter Black at her home on South Court Street. The meeting was well attended and much interest manifested by the members in the work which lies before them for the coming year.

A new office was created at this meeting, that of Financial Manager, and Mrs. G. W. Patterson was chosen to fill the new office. It was decided to prepare and send out, in a few days, a circular letter to each household in the city, in the interest of the Y. W. C. A. women of Montgomery.

Miss Hays of Chicago, who is one of the Field Secretaries of the Y. W. C. A., will lecture in Birmingham in a few days, and will be invited by the Board to come to Montgomery and lecture here.

Mrs. G. W. Patterson will go to Atlanta next week as delegate to the Convention of the "Gulf States Y. W. C. A." The Convention will be held Thursday the 26th, and continue through Sunday.

Next Thursday at 3:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. there will be a general meeting in the interest of the Y. W. C. A., and all who are interested.

PAPERS ARE DENIED

DOMINICAN CONSUL REFUSES CHEROKEE CLEARANCES.

United States Consul General a Passenger on the Steamer and Will Advise the Captain What to Do.

New York, Nov. 18.—Consul General Galvan of Santo Domingo refused to sign clearance papers for the Clyde Line steamer Cherokee to the five Dominican ports in the hands of insurgents for which the Cherokee sailed today but granted clearance papers for the ports of San Domingo and Azua, which were at last reports in possession of the government. The papers were issued by the local customs officials. Consul Galvan said he was acting under orders from his government in refusing to sign clearance papers for the five ports which he declares are closed and in the possession of the rebels.

C. I. Maxwell, consul general to San Domingo, sailed in the Cherokee. He said that he would not be surprised to find the revolution ended when he reached there.

"In a way," he said, "I have orders to advise the captain of this ship what to do in certain contingencies. I cannot say what my advice will be until we reach the spot and I see what confronts us. I think the Baltimore will be at Monte Christi, our first port of call, before we get there, and in that event the officers will decide what we are to do. If the Dominican officials establish a blockade and can maintain it, of the five ports named, or any one of them, we cannot enter, but to make the blockade effectual it must be perpetual, which, I mean it, that the gunboats which meet us at Monte Christi and prevent our entering that harbor cannot follow us to another port and keep us out of there."

"The Dominican government has two gunboats, which are capable of maintaining a blockade of two ports at the same time, but I do not think could effectively blockade more than that. I have heard a rumor that the government has armed two small auxiliary warships for this blockade service but I do not know that this is true."

"I understand," said Consul Galvan, "that several cases of arms were offered for shipment on the Cherokee to Puerto Plata but the Clyde people did not take them unless I certified my consent. The shippers did not come to me for my approval and I do not know who they were."

Just before the lines were cast off Captain Daniel Archibald was asked whether in case of being held up by San Domingo gunboats he would ask Consul of Mr. Maxwell. He replied: "Why, yes; I suppose so. I understand the consul is instructed to give me advice and I will act on what he says."

"Where are your guns?" he was asked.

Every Woman Can Now Be Cured in the Privacy of Home.

Weak, haggard, worn-out women need suffer no longer. A positive cure within the reach of all womanhood and can be had at a nominal cost and taken in the privacy of home which attends the taking of medicine which may be obtained in this manner.

Femina will make sick women well. Femina is the prescription of an eminent specialist and authority on diseases peculiar to women; one that has been used by him with marked success for ten years in his wide and varied private and sanatorium practice.

For the prompt and sure cure of profuse, scanty, painful, delayed or irregular menstruation, it represents the most advanced thought in medicine practice. For inflammation or ulceration of the womb, disorders of the change of life, and derangements and diseases of pregnancy, nothing known to medical science is more effective or of greater curative power.

Femina cures by specific action on the female organs. It acts directly upon the afflicted parts by strengthening the nerve centres and toning and building up the whole system, and generative system.

Femina is now sold and recommended by your druggist. $1.00 a bottle.
